AMERICAN RUSTIC PINE CHILD'S HIGH CHAIR WITH RUSH SEAT, EARLY 20TH CENTURY

$1,500

An American rustic pine child's high chair from the early 20th century with rush seat. Born in the early years of the 20th century, this charming child's high chair features a ladder back, topped with two round finials. Two simple open arms flank the sides and visually frame the rush seat. The legs, slightly splayed and turned in the front, are connected to one another through thin cross stretchers providing further stability to the chair. With its clean lines and rustic appearance, this American pine and rush child's high chair circa 1900 will be a lovely addition to any home, particularly in a child's room.
