

BRONZE DOG SCULPTURE BY J.L. MOTT IRON WORKS WITH VERDIGRIS PATINA, 19TH CENTURY

$10,800

An American bronze statue of a dog by J.L. Mott Iron Works from the late 19th century with verdigris patina. This late 19th-century American bronze statue, crafted by the esteemed J L Mott Iron Works, captures the essence of timeless artistry through the depiction of a dog in restful repose. The statue is distinguished by its verdigris patina, which adds depth and character, suggesting the passage of time and the enduring nature of the sculpture. The dog is meticulously rendered, with great attention to detail evident in its facial features, fur texture, and relaxed posture, all resting upon a sturdy rectangular base. This piece of art transcends mere decoration, offering an evocative presence in any room of the home. The verdigris patina and detailed craftsmanship ensure that this statue will draw interest and admiration, making it a conversation starter and a testament to the owner's appreciation for fine art and historical pieces. Incorporating this bronze statue into a home decor scheme offers an opportunity to blend classical elements with contemporary or traditional settings, adding a touch of elegance and historical intrigue. It would be particularly appealing to collectors, dog enthusiasts, or anyone with an appreciation for 19th-century American art and craftsmanship.

Height: 16 in (40.64 cm)

Width: 30 in (76.2 cm)

Depth: 12 in (30.48 cm)

SKU: A 5061