COUNTRY FRENCH RUSTIC PINE FARM TABLE WITH STRAIGHT LEGS FROM THE 19TH CENTURY

$12,000

A large rustic Country French pine farm dining table from the 19th century, with straight legs, dark patina and distressed appearance. Created in France during the 19th century, this farm pine table features a rectangular planked top with rounded corners, sitting above a simple apron. Boasting a dark patina, the table is raised on four straight legs with discreetly carved accentuation at their top. Showcasing a peg construction, the table presents a nicely weathered appearance revealing its good age and good use. Some height was added to the legs at some point. With its simple lines and rustic character, this French Country pine farm table will make for a charming addition to any home, particularly placed in a dining room.
