

FRENCH 1900S TRAMP ART MIRROR WITH BRASS NAILHEADS AND PROTRUDING CORNERS

$1,800

A French rectangular Tramp Art hand-carved wooden mirror from the early 20th century, with raised diamond motifs, geometric patterns and brass nailheads. Created in France during the early years of the 20th century, this wall mirror was hand carved in the manner typical of the Tramp Art style. Presenting a rectangular frame with protruding corners, the mirror features a layered texture made of a series of overlapping notches showcasing raised diamonds and other geometric motifs adorning the four sides. The ensemble is accented with a regular rhythm of brass nailheads. This frame boasts a brown patina and surrounds a clear mirror providing great reflection. With its nice proportions, skillfully hand-carved décor and brown patina, this French Tramp Art mirror circa 1900 will make for a great addition to any home, particularly placed in a mountain cabin or country home, perhaps hung above a side table or buffet.
