

FRENCH 19TH CENTURY ANTIQUE WHITE PAINTED PEDESTAL TABLE WITH GRAY MARBLE TOP

$4,950

A French antique white painted table from the 19th century with circular variegated gray marble top, bulbous pedestal on tripartite base with carved giltwood lion paw feet. This French antique table, dating back to the 19th century, exudes a timeless elegance that could only come from years of graceful aging. Its circular variegated gray marble top rests effortlessly upon a bulbous pedestal, presenting a magnificent display of craftsmanship and style. The pedestal base, adorned with beautifully carved giltwood lion paw feet, stands out as a testament to the exquisite artistry of the period. The table's white painted finish has acquired a nicely weathered patina over the years, adding depth and character to its overall appearance. This piece would serve as a stunning focal point in any room, blending effortlessly with both classical and contemporary decor. Its marble top offers a durable and elegant surface suitable for showcasing art, serving afternoon tea, or as a luxurious bedside stand in a grand bedroom. The unique combination of the weathered white paint and the patinated giltwood feet infuses a sense of history and luxury into the home, making this table a perfect choice for those who appreciate the beauty of antique furnishings.

Whether placed in a living room, hallway, or study, this French antique table is sure to captivate and charm.
