FRENCH 19TH CENTURY WALNUT SIDEBOARD WITH WHITE MARBLE TOP AND BRASS ACCENTS

$14,975

A French walnut sideboard from the 19th century with white marble top and three drawers over three doors. Created in France during the 19th century, this walnut sideboard features a rectangular white marble top with protruding accents and rounded corners, sitting above three drawers accented with thin brass frames. These drawers showcase a dovetailed construction revealing the piece's good age. Three doors below (a single one and double doors) complete the ensemble. They open to reveal a convenient storage space. The rounded side posts are both fluted and reeded while the back showcases flat pilasters of the same style. The sides are made of panels adorned with a simple décor echoed from the front doors, while the back is unfinished, as expected. The sideboard is raised on six elongated turned feet giving a perfect visual conclusion. With its clean lines and contrasting colors, this French walnut, marble and brass sideboard from the 19th century will make for a great addition to any living room or dining room!
