FRENCH EMPIRE 19TH CENTURY SIDE TABLE WITH BLACK MARBLE TOP AND COLUMN LEGS

$2,995

A French Empire wooden table from the 19th century with circular black marble top, three slender column-shaped legs, bronze mounts and tripartite in-curving low shelf. This exquisite French Empire table, originating from the cherished 19th century, exudes classical elegance with its circular black marble top, which is poised atop a trio of slender, columnar legs. Each leg is adorned with tasteful patinated bronze mounts, enhancing the table's aristocratic charm. Beneath, a tripartite shelf curves inward, providing both structural support and a discreet storage space, all elevated upon dainty conic feet that complete the tableau with a refined grace. This table could serve a myriad of purposes within a contemporary residence: as a stately foyer centerpiece to welcome guests with a vase of fresh flowers; as an accent table in a living room or study, bearing a stack of leather-bound books; or even as a nightstand in a classically styled bedroom, where its marble top would provide a cool, smooth surface for a lamp and personal effects. Wherever it is placed, this piece is sure to infuse any space with a touch of 19th-century French sophistication, its natural patina whispering stories of past grandeur. Its timeless design ensures that it can blend seamlessly with both traditional and modern decor, inviting not only admiration but also contemplation of its storied past.
