

FRENCH FAUX-BAMBOO TURN OF THE CENTURY MIRROR WITH DARK BROWN PATINA, CIRCA 1900

$1,650

A French turn of the century faux-bamboo mirror from circa 1900 with intersecting corners, slanted accents and dark brown patina. Introducing a French Turn of the Century faux-bamboo mirror that effortlessly fuses rustic charm with elegant artistry.

Hailing from the dawn of the 20th century, circa 1900, this mirror reflects the nostalgic essence of French country style. The frame is an eye-catching composition of faux-bamboo elements, eloquently designed with intersecting corners that gracefully boast slanted accents, evoking an air of refined sophistication. The dark brown patina lovingly envelops the frame, enriching its character and emphasizing the details. The deep hues evoke an earthy warmth that harmonizes with various color palettes, making this mirror an adaptable and stylish addition to any space, be it a hallway, bedroom or living area. The mirror plate is clear, reflecting not just the surroundings but also the rich history embedded in its craftsmanship. The soul of this piece lies in its ability to capture the essence of an era gone by while resonating with modern sensibilities. Designed to be hung vertically, the mirror is conveniently wired in the back. Whether it adorns a classical setting or adds an antique touch to a contemporary interior, this French faux-bamboo mirror is sure to enthrall and captivate with its timeless beauty and unparalleled character.
