FRENCH LOUIS-PHILIPPE 19TH CENTURY FOUR-DRAWER COMMODORE WITH BLACK MARBLE TOP

$4,350

A French Louis-Philippe commode from the 19th century with four-drawers, butterfly veneer, black marble top and bleached finish. This French Louis-Philippe commode from the 19th century is a masterpiece of refined elegance and historical charm. Featuring a sophisticated butterfly veneer that enhances its visual appeal, this commode is crowned with a black marble top, adding a touch of luxury. The bleached finish on the wood frames the piece in a light, airy tone, making it adaptable to both traditional and contemporary interiors. It houses four drawers, beginning with a decorative frieze drawer at the top, followed by three larger ones, each detailed with diamond escutcheons and turned wooden pulls, which not only serve as functional elements but also add to its aesthetic beauty. This commode is elevated on simply carved front feet, with the back feet designed in a straight fashion, ensuring stability and style. Ideal for use in a bedroom, living room, or hallway, this Louis-Philippe commode offers ample storage space while serving as a stunning decorative element. It can hold personal items, linens, or serve as a display for decorative accessories. Its timeless design and the exquisite combination of materials make it a focal point in any home, effortlessly blending with a variety of decor styles and adding a historical layer to the interior design.
