LATE 19TH CENTURY FRENCH FRUITWOOD SERVER WITH TWO DRAWERS AND TAPERED LEGS

$4,995

A French two-drawer fruitwood server with peg construction and tapered legs from the late 19th century. This French wooden console table features a rectangular planked top with rounded edges sitting above two drawers with brass bail handles and flower-shaped backplates. The sides and back are simply adorned with recessed panels. While the skirt delicately curves down on the front sides, the back is delicately scalloped in the center. The table is raised on four tapered legs with peg construction. With its grand simplicity, linear Silhouette and warm patina, this French table circa 1880 will be a great addition to any room, perhaps used as a sofa table, console table or server, anchored with a pair of table lamps.
