PAIR OF ENGLISH GREEN LEATHER TURN OF THE CENTURY TUFTED SLIPPER CHAIRS

$4,200

A pair of exquisite turn of the century English green tufted leather slipper chairs. This pair of English slipper chairs from the early 20th century features a green color tufted leather seat with nailhead riveting. The seats are nested into a curvy wooden structure with scrolled and slanted backs. The four scrolled feet are connected two by two with a front and back stretcher. Traditionally used in bedrooms to help ladies get dressed, this pair of English slipper chairs from circa 1900, with their low seats and high backs, would look wonderful in any bedroom. Slipper chairs are typically problem solvers, particularly in smaller rooms.
